Market Overview

Despite attempts by the world's major governments to shore up confidence in the financial markets, sentiment in equities remained extremely subdued in October. Newsflow was particularly heavy given the emergency cut in interest rates by several of the world's central banks, promises by European governments to provide assistance to financial institutions and a wave of disappointing economic and corporate earnings data. Stock markets consequently suffered wide fluctuations as investors reacted to every piece of detail. Against this hostile backdrop, defensive stocks were once again the order of the day and shares in many commodity companies were shunned as prices of raw materials continued to fall on the back of growing economic concerns. The fund fell 20.5%, underperformed its benchmark's loss of 10.4%.

US fertilizer manufacturer Scotts Miracle Gro, Australian drinks producer Foster's Group and packaging business Amcor are contributors to the fund's performance. Franco-German aerospace manufacturer EADS also fared well. Commodity stocks were once again punished in October because of ongoing fears that the distress suffered by financial markets will hurt an already vulnerable global economy and therefore dampen demand for raw materials. The share prices of steel manufacturer Bluescope Steel, platinum mining firm Lonmin, metal recycling business Sims and nickel mining group Eramet lost significant ground. We maintain conviction in their long-term fundamentals.

We continued to take active steps during the month to ensure that the portfolio is in a strong enough position to withstand the current hostile economic circumstances. We trimmed investment in basic material stocks, including Linde, FMC and TransCanada. A holding in US clothes manufacturer VF was sold during the month.
